Module Summary Information

1	Module Title	Grammar and Sounds
2	Module Credits	40
3	Module Level	5
4	Module Code	EGL5063

5	Module Overview
This module will deepen your knowledge and understanding of the core foundations of the English language and allow you to research intellectually challenging concepts using a variety of methodological approaches. You will focus on the description of English grammar, morphology, phonetics and phonology as well as analyse linguistics phenomena in context. You will develop your analytical skills and capacity to be reflective and critical when synthesising complex information. The module will build your linguistic skills and thus promote graduate work readiness. You will develop the foundation of your knowledge through a series of lectures followed by workshops in which you will apply your understanding of the field through a range of practical activities. The formally taught sessions will be supported by pre-sessional learning activities delivered via Moodle and post-sessional practical online tests and project work in teams. The independent learning will be characterised by the development of wider critical knowledge of the field which will be supported by the application and development of students' research skills.
